SUMMARY OF THE REASONS FOR DECISION:

The computer moving image file entitled Bukake-Japan-02 (1).mpeg is classified as: Objectionable.

The publication is a moving image file containing a brief sexually explicit sequence involving a contrived spectacle of a woman being objectified and dehumanised by a group of men. The file is objectionable because it concentrates on images of a woman being subjected to very degrading, dehumanising and demeaning sexual conduct. The manner in which this material is presented and intended for the sexual arousal of men is particularly degrading, dehumanising and demeaning to the woman involved. There is a strong likelihood of injury to the public good in the association of degrading conduct directed at a woman and sexual arousal. This is likely to create or support negative male attitudes and behaviour to women.

A classification of "Objectionable" places a limit on the right to the freedom of expression as set out in s14 of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990. However, the right to freedom of expression must be weighed against the likelihood of injury to the public good. Given the high extent and degree of the degrading, dehumanising and demeaning presentations in the publication the classification is considered a reasonable limit prescribed by law that can be demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society.
